ELLEN HAGAN HOUSE WEEK CELEBRATION

"Nurturing Girls for Leadership, A Fulcrum against 21st Century Leadership Menace", the theme for the Ellen Hagan House Week Celebration, was one that spoke volumes. The celebration was a whole week programme; from the 24th to 28th of January, 2022. CEO'S in the making were ready to be equipped for leadership positions that they desired in the near future. The week saw the celebration being launched with 'Professional day'. The girls looked splendid in their various professional attires ranging from doctors, engineers, lawyers, military personnel, social media influencers, traders to mention a few. Take heart, dear parents, some of these professions were inspired solely by the urge to dress uniquely not necessarily their aspirations. The second day saw the girls displaying international outfits from different countries and cultures. There were representatives from Ghana, UAE, Saudi Arabia, England, France and the most represented country being India. The members of EHH presented on female empowerment in some of the countries particularly those that were male dominated in terms of career development.

Day three was one of display of rich and beautiful Ghanaian culture. The colours of the various local prints added life to the day. The Ewes, the Gas, the Northerners and the Akans showed up in all their splendour. The dances, music and presentations were all a sight to behold. The fourth day was a sporty one and the girls came through as well. On Friday, there was so much excitement in the air as the girls went oldies. We saw the 90's Nigerian movie stars, the basketball players, the tomboyish looks, the nerdy looks as well as those who went "gangster", all being represented. Although it was a celebration for EHH members, everyone else took part in it.

On Saturday games such as ampe, oware, ludu, monopoly, chess, hide and seek and scrabble were played. Refreshments of sobolo, popcorn and some pastries were served amidst music, dance and laughter in a session dubbed "Kelewele and Chill". The celebration was crowned with a thanksgiving service on Sunday in which Dr. Mrs. Ellen Hagan, the eponym of the house, sent another message to the girls as she had done earlier on Friday. The event was successful and exciting.

EMPOWERMENT SEMINAR

A seminar was held on Thursday 27th January, 2022 at the Multipurpose Hall of Legacy Girls' College. Elder Amos Kevin-Annan was the speaker for the day. The first session was themed "staying sexually sane in a sex-crazy world" and the second session "Leadership in my generation". The session was truly educative and insightful. The girls were thrilled because the speaker was abreast with trends, and related with the girls incredibly well. We were admonished to keep our sanity in a sex-driven world. He spoke on the relevance of maintaining consistency in both the virtual and the visible life. He addressed the issue of peer pressure, and admonished us to align ourselves with positive groups and remain assertive. He disclosed that an aura of confidence is necessary for girls who want to stand out in a world that has normalized many vices. He also spoke on leadership. He emphasized that we are all leaders, and as leaders we must watch our words, our walk and to keep a Godly company. Truly, many lessons were learnt. The seminar was indeed a great enlightenment to all present.

HEALTH WALK

As Virgil once posited "the greatest wealth is health". On the 22nd of January, 2022, the much-anticipated health walk themed, "Walk for a healthy Life" was held. Early in the morning, the entire Legacy community gathered at the forecourt of the school to offer prayers. We left the school ground in high spirits along with two buses, the school's regimental band and a medical team to take care of any emergency. It was a 6.8 kilometre walk from the school to Akuse Club House. The walk back to the school was challenging but with determination, we made it back to school. We were warmly welcomed with a refreshing coconut water and some local drinks such as millet drink. "Good health is not a goal, it's a way of Living! It changes not only your body but your mind, your attitude and your mood!"

ORIENTATION

The 2022 New Girls' Orientation began on Saturday, 15th January, 2022 to Friday, 28th January, 2022 at the School's Auditorium. The various presentations from the leadership of the school focused on:

LEGACY GIRLS' COLLEGE

As new students, it was prudent for them to know a bit about the new environment they have found themselves in. Thus, they were taken through the school's handbook, which spells the rules and regulations and appropriate sanctions that go with flouting any rule. Students were also taken through the history of the school, the mission and vision, and the core values that students should live by among others. This session ended with the girls taking a tour of the school campus.

SELF- DEVELOPMENT

The essence of this session was to equip the girls to consciously pursue personal growth by improving personal skills, competencies, talents and knowledge in order to seek self-fulfilment and proactively reach their full potential. In view of that, a seminar was held on personal grooming. The girls were also exposed to the concept of Self-Awareness, Self-Esteem and a comprehensive education on Morality and Sexuality.

ACADEMICS AND PARACADEMICS

Fresh students were given an overview on the programmes offered in the school: General Arts, Business and Science. The girls were also given the opportunity to interact with teachers, as they give insight into the various subjects. They were also exposed to the academic facilities and other academic programmes like SWiT, Critical Thinking, Student Encounter, Value-Added Measure among others. This session ended with a talk on the negative effects of social media and an introduction to the clubs in the school.

HEALTH AND SAFEGUARDING

The school nurses spoke to the students about the Sickbay and the rules governing it. There was also a seminar on nutrition, substance abuse, health management, and Covid-19 and its effects on mental health. A session was also held on boarding life. The girls were taken through their daily routine, table manners and the general rules and regulation governing boarding life in the school. They were finally admonished to take responsibility of their environment, health and safety.

SPIRITUAL WELLBEING

As an institution, we believe that a balanced life requires that we take care not only of the necessities of the body, feelings and mind, but also of the spirit. In view of that, the girls were taken through a session on building relationship with God, school management, staff, peers and the opposite sex. With respect to building a relationship with God, emphasis was placed on Quiet Time, Morning Devotion, Devotion at Form Room, Sunday Worship Service and Scripture Union. Spiritual growth is the birth right of everyone. It is the key to a life of happiness and an enormous manifestation of the power within us.

MATRICULATION

The matriculation for fresh students for the 2021/22 academic year was held on Friday 28th January, 2022. This event sought to officially welcome students into the school and to usher them into their first step in achieving greatness. The Head of School, Mrs. Nancy Duah, reminded them that every blessing comes with a responsibility; as the matriculants swore to diligently apply themselves to all spiritual, moral and intellectual pursuits. Mr. Charles Arthur Johnson gave a powerful exhortation on excelling in unfamiliar territory. He also advised the matriculants to dream of greatness wherever they go.
